

Peanut Butter Fudge

By: Mary J. Roe (Matthews)

From: Her great grandson, Ryan Moltedo

4 cups sugar

1 large can of milk

½ stick butter

1 tbs vanilla

¾ large glass of peanut butter

Mix sugar and milk. Add butter. Cook on low to medium heat until soft ball forms in cold water. (It takes a while.) Stir or it will burn. After the ball forms take of heat and add vanilla, peanut butter and beat, beat, beat and beat some more until the shine is gone and it is too hard to beat. Put in a 9 x 13 buttered dish and cool. Cut into squares.

I am Ryan, the great grandson of Mary Roe. I was too little to remember her, but I remember her fudge. My sister, Taylor, and I make it every Christmas. It is real good. -Ryan-
